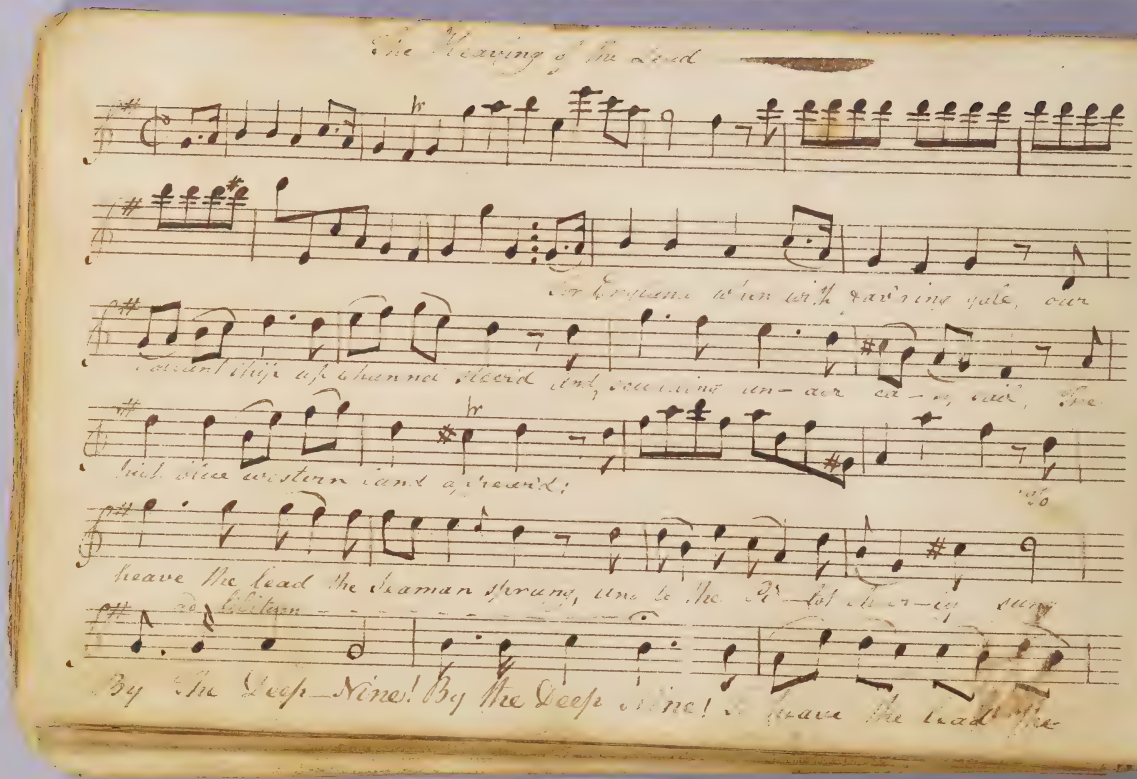
The Muff

The Muff continued



The Heaving of the Lead
Sir Ephraim when with raving gale, our vessel ship upon channel board and running on-our ca-ble, the last dim western land appeared;
Heave the lead the seaman sprung, and to the Pilot cry-ing
By the Deep Nine! By the Deep Nine! Heave the lead the and beaming aft to gain the Port

Some days more pass'd when from on high
An Abbey tower, an Entrance dim
Was seen to rise, to the Ship true.
Then up the Land the Seaman flung,
And to the Pile of Gloomy aunt
"Ah! see Mercie Heaven!"

3

One of the watch loud shore cried near,
With Importune watch'd the mast
"There dwells a Friend or Partner dear, Wait and save a watch-fast."
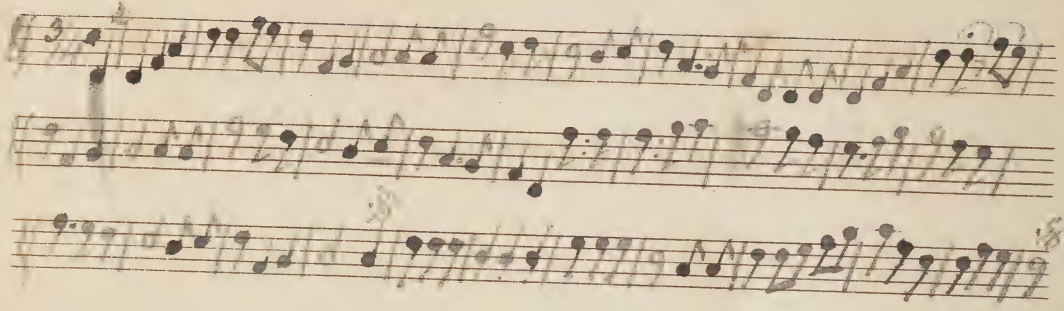
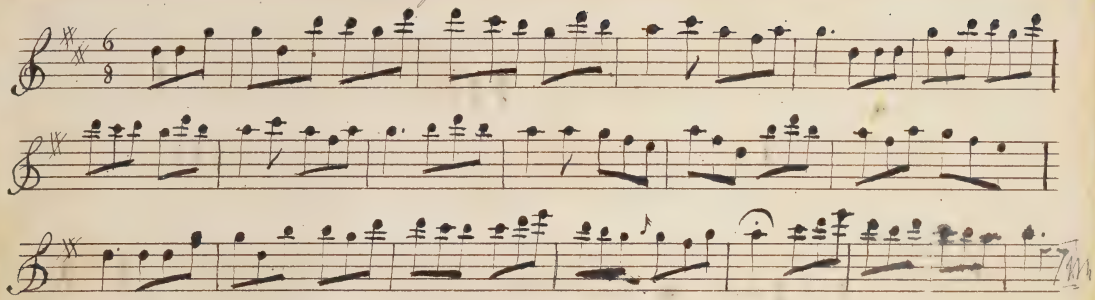
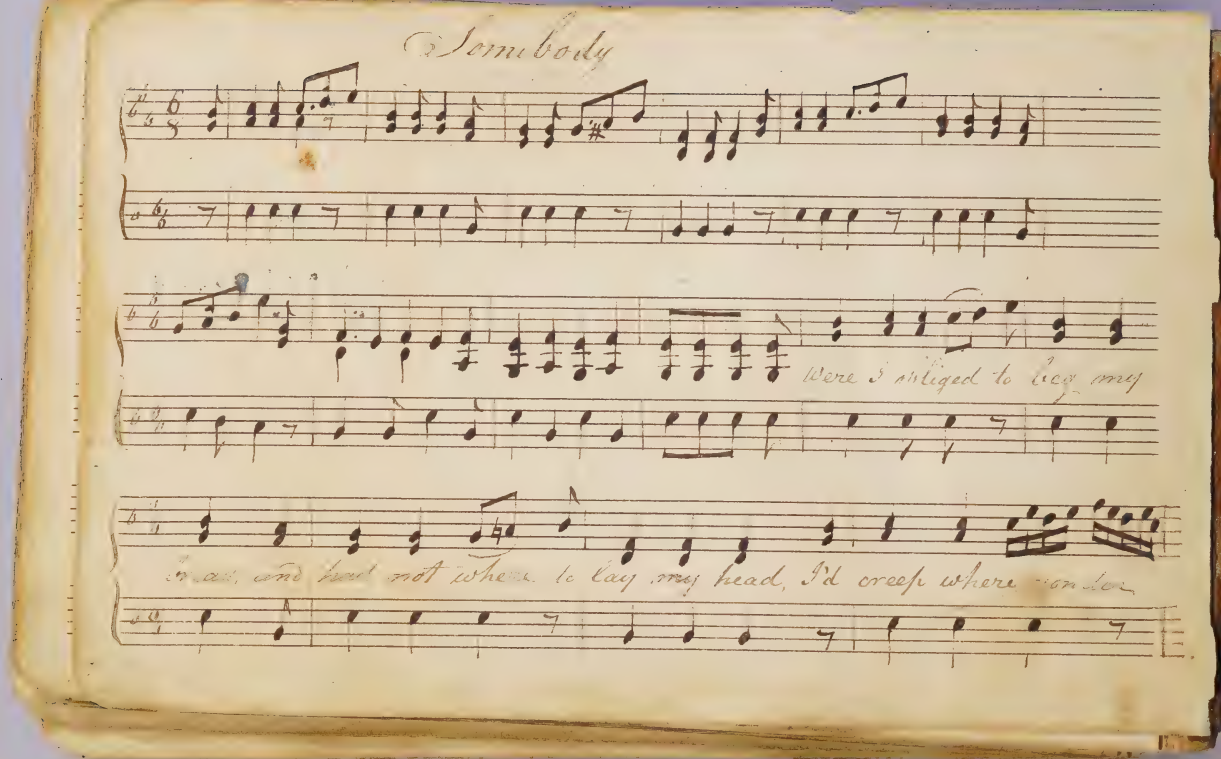
Again cried once more the Seaman flung,
And to the Welcome Pilot sung
"Sorrow-hugs-Heave!"



Avec les deux Dames de Village





Somebody
Were I obliged to beg my bread, and had not where to lay my head, I'd creep where wonder birds are fed and steal a look at somebody my own dear somebody my constant somebody I'd creep where yonder birds are fed and steal a look at somebody

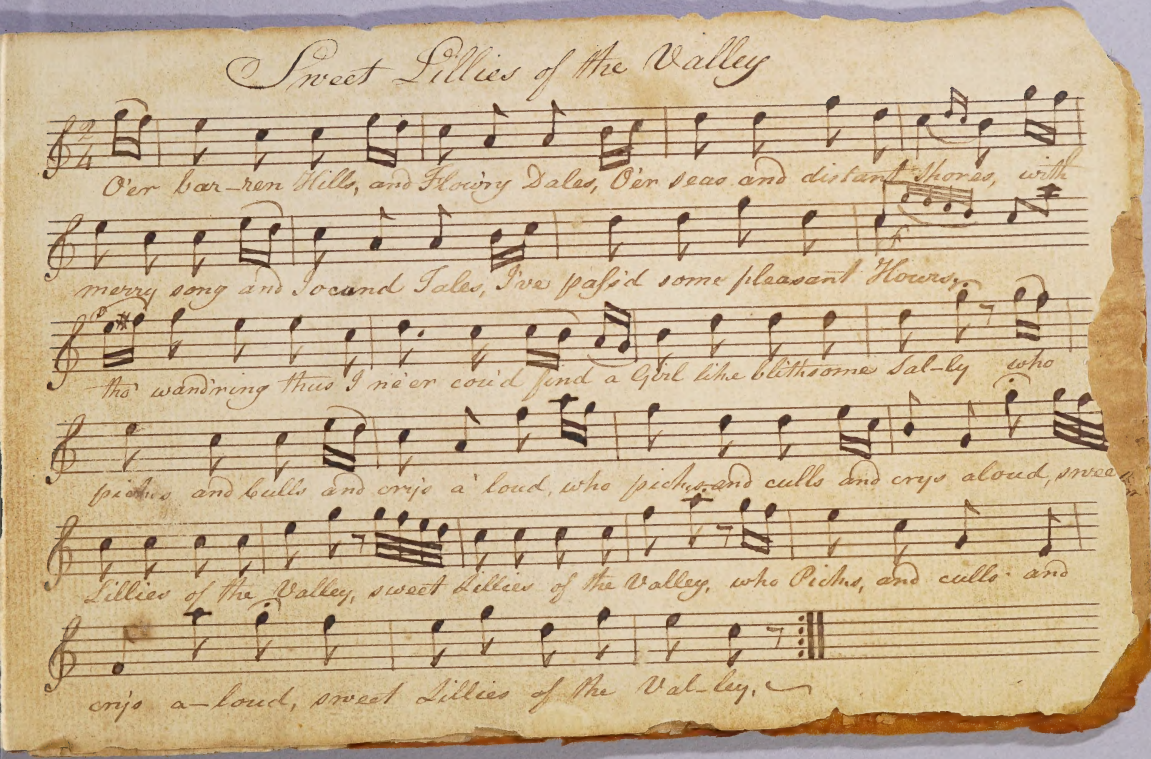
If should my love meet with return,
I'd bless the day that I was born
And never more would sigh or mourn
But live to look at Somebody
My own dear Somebody
My constant Somebody
And never more would sigh or mourn
But live to look at Somebody

3.

We'll live where purest joys are found
Round our own happy cottage ground
The fairest flowers that e'er were seen
Shall form a wreath to deck my queen
My own dear Somebody
My constant Somebody
And never more would sigh or mourn
But live to look at Somebody

1. Composed and sung by Mrs. Wood



Sweet Lillies of the Valley
O'er bar-ren Hills, and Flow'ry Dales, O'er seas and distant Shores, with merry song and Jocund Tales, I've pass'd some pleasant Hours, tho' wand'ring thus I ne'er cou'd find a Girl like blithsome Sal-ly who pickes and culls and cryes a' loud, who pickes and culls and cryes aloud, sweet Lillies of the Valley, sweet Lillies of the Valley, who Pickes, and culls and cryes a-loud, sweet Lillies of the Val-ley.

2

From whistling o'er the harrow's top,
From nesting of each Tree,
I chose a Soldiers life to wed,
So social gay and free,
Yet the the Ladies love as well,
And often try to Rally,
None pleases me like her who sings
Sweet Lillies of the valley

3

I'm now returning (of late discharg'd)
To use my Native toil
From fighting in my Countrys cause,
To plough my Countrys soil,
I care not which with either's pleased
So I possess my Sally,
That little merry Nymph that sings
Sweet Lillies of the Valley
